

ACTIVE DIGITAL IMAGE CAPTURE DEVICE

ABSTRACT

5 The present invention provides an active image capture device, comprising: an image capture unit capable of capture image for generating an image data; and a processing unit connecting to the image capture unit; wherein when the active image capture device is connected to an image forming device, the processing unit is used for outputting the image data to the image forming device and further controlling the operation of the image 10 forming device.
